CHARLES F. (Charlie) THOMAS Chairman of the Board, Houston Rockets

With intentions of nourishing the team and setting sights on long-range goals, Charlie Thomas of Houston, Texas purchased the Houston Rockets of the National Basketball Association on June 15, 1982. The eighth owner in the 15-year history of the franchise, Charlie Thomas says: "The Houston Rockets won't be for sale again."

"If you wanted to buy a sports team, what else could you ask for than what I've got with the Rockets? I have a city, a facility management, fan support and a team that is all of top-flight caliber. I look at the Rockets and see less of a need for improvement in the organization than almost every car dealership I've ever bought," says Thomas, a Knoxville, Tenn. native who came to Texas in 1956.

Thomas, 51, has bought 20 car dealerships in the Southwest since joining a Corpus Christi dealership in 1956. From 1959 until 1967 he was with a Ford dealership in San Antonio, eventually serving as General Manager under owner B. J. "Red" McCombs, who bought the Denver Nuggets on the very June 15th last when Thomas' name was officially linked with the Rockets. A salesman in that dealership was Angelo Drossos, now President of the San Antonio Spurs.

Thomas has parlayed his automobile dealerships into investments in ranching, breeding bulls, banking, finance, insurance, real estate, beer, liquor and hotels. He has lived in Houston since 1971 and, despite his being Chairman of the Board of the Great Southern Bank, he keeps his everyday office at his Charles Thomas Ford dealership on the Gulf Freeway.

Thomas says he will be the type of owner who takes an active interest in the team, but still maintains a rather low profile. "I don't pretend to know basketball, but I believe I do know something about business and about people. I try to listen to knowledgeable sources, gather all the facts and then make a firm evaluation about whether a certain plan is worthwhile," he says. "I just want to see our club continue to progress. I firmly believe this team will be a good long-range investment and I'm willing to do whatever it takes to put us on top."

Charlie Thomas knows what it's like at the top. His Houston Ford dealership was rated in the top five most profitable Ford dealerships in the country in 1981. The 1981 International Champion bull, Mr. Suva 203, is the property of the Thomas interests. "If the team does as well as my bull," Thomas says, "I'll be more than happy."

Thomas and wife Kittsie make their home in the River Oaks area. They are the parents of three daughters: Kelly (Mrs. Ed) Schmidt, Robin (Mrs. Fred) Carroll, and Tracy Lee, a student at Texas A&M University.

SIDNEY L. SHLENKER Vice-Chairman of the Board, Houston Rockets

Sidney Shlenker returns to the professional sports scene as co-owner of the Houston Rockets. In the 1970's, Shlenker served as President of both Astrodome Corporation and the Houston Astros Baseball Club. From there he and a group bought Security National Bank, which in 1980 became part of Allied Bancshares. Shlenker remains as Chairman of the Board. Previous to this, Shlenker and friend Allen Becker formed PACE Management Corporation to market and produce major entertainment and sports events across the country. They then joined with Barry Lewis and began to purchase, renovate and operate theatres in the Southwest including the Tower Theatre in Houston, Saenger Theatre in New Orleans and Majestic Theatre in San Antonio. Shlenker also produced for the theatre, such as the off-Broadway production of ENTERTAINING MR. SLOAN and the Broadway hit (7 Tony nominations) JOSEPH AND THE AMAZING TECHNICOLOR DREAMCOAT. Shlenker serves on the board of Theatre Now, Inc., in New York City, is Chairman of the Board of Channel 21, Inc., in Dallas/Ft. Worth and Channel 20, Inc., in Houston. He also serves on the boards of F. Strauss & Son, Inc., New Orleans, Decor Noel, John's International and Gulf Inland Corporation.

RAY A. PATTERSON

President and General Manager, Houston Rockets

Fourteen years ago the National Basketball Association consisted of 14 teams. The league has added nine clubs since then. But from the start of the 1968-69 season only four owners remain: Richard Bloch at Phoenix, Franklin Mieuli at Golden State, Abe Pollin at Washington and Sam Schulman at Seattle. Only three coaches have been around as long: Dick Motta, Jack Ramsay and Gene Shue, and only one player, Elvin Hayes. And Ray Patterson, President and General Manager of the Houston Rockets, is one of only three General Managers to have stood the test of time. Ray's 14 years as an operating officer in the N.B.A. is equaled by Jerry Colangelo at Phoenix and surpassed only by Red Auerbach's 31 years with Boston. Auerbach's .637 winning percentage stands out in this threesome with Patterson at .530 and Colangelo .510.

In 1981 Patterson became the only General Manager in the 36-year history of the N.B.A. to have gone to the finals with different franchises. Houston lost the championship series that year to Boston, but in 1971 the Milwaukee Bucks swept to the title in the quickest leap (three years) in all of pro sports from expansion franchise to World Champions.

This summer, for the eighth time since Patterson came to Houston from Milwaukee in 1972, the Rockets franchise again changed ownership, with Charlie Thomas and Sidney Shlenker purchasing the club from the Maloof Companies. But Patterson is excited about the newest Rocket ownership: "Having local ownership is very important in this league. There is a need for quick decisions and you quickly can see that Charlie Thomas is a person who gets things done. He'll be a great representative on the N.B.A. Board of Governors. He can call up the other owners on an equal footing and Houston's voice will be heard a little louder."

During his 14 years in the N.B.A., Patterson's teams in Milwaukee and Houston have made the playoffs nine times, the Rockets the last four years in a row and six times in the last eight seasons. Only Philadelphia and Washington with seven each have been in the playoffs more in the last eight years. The 1977 Rockets won the Central Division with the best mark in club history, 49-33, while in the four years since the team has finished second in its division. The 1981 team won the Western Conference Championship enroute to the finals.

Voted the 1977 Sporting News N.B.A. Executive of the Year, Patterson is only the third General Manager in club history. Jack McMahon served the first year, 1967-68, and Pete Newell the next four, 1968-72. Under Patterson's direction, the team has made giant strides not only in the won-loss column, but in the all-important attendance line. From a franchise low average of 3,855 in 1973-74, yearly attendance gains have been a matter of course, with the club setting an all-time average mark of 11,710 last season.

Holder of Bachelor and Masters degrees from the University of Wisconsin, where he lettered four years in basketball, Patterson played pro ball for the Flint, Mich. team in the old National Basketball League. He returned to his high school, Wayland Academy, Beaver Dam, Wis. as basketball coach in 1949. In 1954 he was named President and Headmaster of the school where he remained until tabbed by the Milwaukee Bucks in 1968.

He and his wife, Ruth, reside in Sugarland, Texas. Oldest son Pat resides in California while sons Steve and Peter and daughters Liz and Peggy are attending the University of Texas.

DEL HARRIS Head Coach, Houston Rockets

In his three years as Head Coach of the Houston Rockets, Del Harris has compiled a list of achievements heretofore unmatched by any previous mentor. With the Rockets making the playoffs last season, he became the first coach to lead the team to three consecutive playoff berths. Though the Rockets were eliminated by Seattle in the first round, Harris has coached in 31 playoff games over the past three years, a figure surpassed only by Billy Cunningham's 54 with Philadelphia and Bill Fitch's 38 at Boston. Harris' Rockets have played in seven playoff series over the three years and won four.

Already percentage-wise the winningest coach in club history, Harris' .516 mark passed Tom Nissalke's three-year .504. Harris this season will pass milestones for the most wins in Rockets history and for the most games coached. Harris has 127 wins in 246 total games, while John Egan had 129 victories in 281 games.

The key to Harris' record may be based on the coach's strong commitment to defense which he made at the time of his appointment. The Rockets had given up 112.4 points a game in the 1978-79 season. Since that time the defensive average has dropped in each season, to 110.7 in 1979-80, to 107.9 in 1980-81 and to 105.9 last season, the lowest mark in six years and third best defensive mark in club history. Harris' 1981 team set an all-time defensive mark for playoff competition by holding the opposition under 100 points in nine straight games. That 1981 club also set an all-time league mark with eight playoff road wins, breaking a 1968 mark set by Boston.

"Despite the fact that our overall defensive average was 9th best in the league," says Harris, "we start this season again emphasizing the defensive end of the court. We want to see improvement in our defensive rebounding, steals and blocked shots. We were down near the bottom in those categories. We simply have to be effective in those aspects of the game in order to get transition opportunities leading to easy baskets."

A native of Plainfield, Ind., Harris graduated from Milligan (Tenn.) College where he won four letters each in basketball and baseball. He began coaching on the prep level in Tennessee and Indiana, compiling a 79-36 five-year mark. He then moved on to Earlham College, Richmond, Ind., where his teams had a nine-year record of 185-70 .714, his last seven teams there averaging over 20 wins and earning post-season tourney berths.

For seven summers while at Earlham, Harris also coached in the Puerto Rico Pro League, where many present and past N.B.A. mentors have worked. His teams made the playoffs five straight times and won three national titles, compiling a 154-79, .661 record.

Prior to joining the Rockets as an assistant to Tom Nissalke in 1976, Harris was an assistant coach with the A.B.A. Utah Stars and at the University of Utah.

He has written three books, Multiple Defense for Winning Basketball (1971), Coaching Basketball's Zone Offense (1975), and a recently published positive living novel for teenagers, Playing the Game.

Harris and wife, Joyce, reside in Cypress. They are the parents of four youngsters: Larry, a sophomore at Eastern New Mexico, and Alex, a freshman at Hardin-Simmons, both on basketball scholarships; Stan, 14, and Carey, 13, students at Cypress Creek High School.

CARROLL DAWSON

Assistant Coach, Houston Rockets

Assistant Coach of the Houston Rockets for the past two seasons, Carroll Dawson has been part of the sports scene in Texas all his life. Starting with high school basketball at Alba, Texas where his prep team was 44-3, Carroll then went on to win junior college All-American honors at Paris, Texas under Coach Boyd Converse. He then led Baylor University in both scoring and rebounding, 13.3 and 7.3 as a junior, 16.4 and 8.8 as a senior, in 1958-59 and 1959-60 under Coach Bill Henderson. Carroll returned to the Baylor campus in 1963 as an assistant coach in basketball to Bill Menefee, presently the Baylor Athletic Director. In 1973 he succeeded Menefee as head basketball coach and served in that post for three and a half seasons. After leaving Baylor he served in the scouting department of the Dallas Cowboys football team and was with the sporting goods division of the Converse Rubber Company prior to joining the Rockets. Dawson is a resident of Houston.

RUDY TOMJANOVICH

Chief Scout, Houston Rockets

One of the Rockets all-time greatest players and the first ever to have his number, 45, retired, Rudy Tomjanovich will be scouting for the Rockets for the second year following his 11-year career as an active N.B.A. player. The first draft pick of the Rockets in the 1970 draft, the second pick overall, Bob Lanier having been taken first by Detroit, Rudy went on to score 13,383 points and get 6,198 rebounds and became one of a small number of players to have spent their entire careers with the same franchise. Five times selected to play in the All-Star Game, including a starting role in the 1979 game at Pontiac, Mich., Rudy several times ranked among NBA leaders in scoring and field goal accuracy and ended his career with a lifetime scoring average of 17.4 and a career shooting mark of .501. Rudy, his wife, Sophie and daughters Nicole and Melissa, and new arrival Rudy III, reside in Houston.

DICK VANDERVOORT

Trainer, Houston Rockets

In his 12th season as trainer and traveling secretary of the Houston Rockets, Dick Vandervoort also serves as Chairman of the N.B.A. Trainer's Association. He represents that group in dealing with the N.B.A., with the Player's Association and with club physicians. Only Atlanta's Joe O'Toole, Golden State's Dick D'Oliva, Philadelphia's Al Domenico and Phoenix' Joe Proski have been with their teams longer than Dick has been with the Rockets. Dick joined Houston in 1971 after 11 years as head athletic trainer at Washington State University. Prior to that he was the trainer for a year at Wichita State. The father of sons Mark, 19, and Todd, 17, Dick and his wife, Concetta, reside in Houston.

GENE PETERSON

Broadcaster, Houston Rockets

Having broadcast 625 consecutive Houston Rocket regular season and playoff games, Gene Peterson returns behind the play-by-play microphone for his eighth season as the Voice of the Rockets. Filling each broadcast with the full extent of his emotions, he has become a favorite of local fans. Gene joined the Rockets for the 1975-76 season after having been Sports Director of KPRC Radio here for a year. KPRC-950 Radio again this season will be the flagship station of the Rockets network. A native of Albert Lea, Minn., Peterson studied at the Brown Institute in Minneapolis and then began his career in radio following Air Force duty. Prior to coming to Houston he worked at WECL in Eau Claire, Wis.; KOB in Albuquerque, N.M.; and KCMO in Kansas City, Mo. Gene and his wife, Marsha, reside in Kingwood with youngsters Jennifer, 16, and Paul, 10, while son Todd, 19, is a sophomore at the University of Texas.

JOE BRYANT

6-9 218 Forward-Guard

Age: 28 Born: 10-19-54 Valley Forge, PA.
High School: John Bartram, Philadelphia, PA.

College: LaSalle College, Philadelphia, PA, 1975

Pro Season: 8th Rockets Season: 1st
How Acquired: Trade from San Diego for exchange of 1982 2nd round picks, 32 overall to San Diego, 42 overall to Houston, 6-29-82

Prior Pro Career: 1975 College Draft, 1st round, 14th overall, hardship case, by Golden State. Sold by Golden State to Philadelphia 9-12-75. Traded by Philadelphia to San Diego for 1986 1st round pick 10-5-79

N.B.A. High Point Game: 34 with San Diego vs. Kansas City, 3-10-81

Married: Wife Pamela, youngsters Sharia, 6; Shaya, 5, and Kobe, 4

When the quality you're looking for in a pro basketball player is versatility, look no further than new Rocket performer Joe Bryant. He has played every position on the court during his seven pro seasons. But last season at San Diego his versatility was more striking than ever. Due to the Clippers injury situation, he was forced to start at center in early February against Dallas after having played mainly at forward for the first half of the season. Here's what he did in that pivot start against the Mavericks Feb. 3: 36 minutes, 32 points on 14 of 17 from the field and 4 of 6 free throws; 9 rebounds, 4 assists, a steal and a block. Then two weeks later he was starting guard teaming with 5-8 Charlie Criss to make the 6-9 Bryant part of the "oddest" backcourt couple in the league. In a 12-game span prior to suffering a sprained ankle, Bryant averaged 10 points, 4.6 assists, and hit 52 of 54 free throw tries, .963, including 33 in a row at one point. "It felt good and it was a lot of fun in the backcourt," says Bryant. "I played guard in high school and really wanted to give it a try when I came into the NBA in 1976. But I guess the league wasn't ready for a 6-9 guard back then." Bryant last season had career highs for scoring, 11.8, assists, 2.5, and field goal percentage, .486. He played two years at LaSalle College under Coach Paul Westhead, now the head man with the Chicago Bulls. He led the Big Five in rebounding in each of those college seasons, 11.4 and 10.8, while scoring 21.8 and 18.7.

CALVIN GARRETT

6-7 195 Forward

Age: 26 Born: 7-11-56 Parsons, Tenn.

High School: East, Nashville, Tenn.

Colleges: Austin-Peay State University, Clarksville, Tenn.; Oral Roberts University, Tulsa, Okla., 1980

Pro and Rockets Season: 3rd

How Acquired: Draft rights traded from Chicago for 1982 2nd round pick, 38th overall, 6-10-80

Prior Pro Career: 1979 College Draft, 3rd round, 47th overall, junior eligible, by Chicago

N.B.A. High Point Game: 22 vs. Seattle, 11-18-80

Married: Wife Deborah, daughter Yolanda 7

As a rookie with the Rockets, Calvin Garrett started 35 contests and averaged nearly 24 minutes, six points and four rebounds a game. He posted his career point high, 22, in his 16th game as a pro. His most memorable game as a first year player may have been the final game of the 1981 World Championship Series with Boston. His four field goals and a steal in the fourth quarter rallied the Rockets from a 17-point deficit to within three points though Boston went on to win the game and the title. Last season his time dropped off to just 17 minutes per game, with 4.5 scoring and 1.8 rebounding marks as he started only five games, all at a forward slot. Garrett went west this summer and played for the Rockets team in the Southern California Pro League where he averaged 14.6 points, 5.4 rebounds and 2.7 assists. His contract with the Rockets was up and his hard work and improved play in the summer earned him a three-year contract with the Rockets. In his final two years of college basketball at Oral Roberts, Garrett averaged 21.0 and 22.3 points respectively while hitting better than 50% from the field in both of those seasons. Calvin would like to lift his pro accuracy to that figure, having hit .453 and .434 in his first two pro campaigns. During one seven-game span last December, Calvin's accuracy was the tops of his career, hitting 33 of 57, .579 as he scored 10.0 per game. Garrett has impressed Coach Del Harris with his defensive instincts: "I feel I can play him on either guard, or on a small forward." And should Garrett's offense pick up, he should be able to pick up that time he lost over his first two pro campaigns. "I may have concentrated too much on defense and lost confidence in my offense," admits Garrett. "But I was an offensive player in college and I have to make my opponent respect my shot."

ELVIN HAYES

6-9 235 Forward

Age: 37 Born: 11-17-45 Rayville, La.

High School: Eula D. Britton, Rayville, La.

College: University of Houston, Houston, Tx., 1968

Pro Season: 15th Rockets Season: 6th

How Acquired: Trade from Washington for 1981 (35th overall) and 1983 2nd round picks, 6-8-81

Prior Pro Career: 1968 College Draft, 1st round, 1st overall, by San Diego Rockets. Traded to Bullets for Jack Marin and future consideration 6-23-72

N.B.A. High Point Game: 54 with San Diego vs. Detroit 11-13-68

Married: Wife Erna, youngsters Elvin, 15; Erna, 10; Erica, 7, and Ethan, 4

Elvin Ernest Hayes began his collegiate basketball career in Houston 18 years ago and a two-year contract signed with the Rockets this summer cements his relationship with the city. Citing Elvin's experience and leadership as vital factors in a strong 27-14 Rockets finish last season, club President and General Manager Ray Patterson says: "He remains one of the premier power forwards in the game and we anticipate two more outstanding seasons from him." Having achieved All-American honors while at the University of Houston and having played in 12 N.B.A. All-Star Games during his 14-year pro career, he will be closing in on or passing some all-time league marks over the next two seasons. He has played 14 seasons. Dolph Schayes, John Havlicek and Paul Silas played the most seasons as active players. He has 14 consecutive seasons of 1,000 or more points, an achievement surpassed only by Havlicek who did it in each of his 16 seasons. He needs to play in 130 games to become the all-time leader in games played. He needs only 1,156 minutes to become the all-time leader in that category. He already ranks 3rd on the all-time rebound list and needs only 845 points to become 3rd in scoring. On the rebound list he trails Wilt Chamberlain and Bill Russell; on the point list Wilt Chamberlain and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. More remarkable than any of his records may be his marks for durability. He has missed only seven games of a possible 1,256 regular season, playoff and All-Star games over 14 seasons. Eight times he played in all 82 games, in six other years he played in at least 80. He has missed only three games in the past six seasons. Last season he was the only Rocket to start and play in all 82 regular season games and was second to N.B.A. MVP Moses Malone in scoring, 16.1; rebounding, 9.1; blocks, 1.3, and minutes, 37.0. Named to the N.B.A. All-Star first team in 1975, 1977 and 1979, Elvin led the N.B.A. in scoring in 1969 and in rebounding in 1970 and 1974.

TOM HENDERSON 6-3 190 Guard

Age: 30 Born: 1-26-52 Newberry, S.C.

High School: DeWitt Clinton, New York, N.Y.

Junior College: San Jacinto, Pasadena, TX

College: University of Hawaii, Honolulu, Hawaii

Pro Season: 9th Rockets Season: 4th

How Acquired: Signed as free agent, 7-16-79.

Washington received a 1st round 1980 pick (14th overall) as compensation

Prior Pro Career: 1974 College Draft, 1st round, 7th overall, by Atlanta. Traded with a 1st round pick (4th overall) to Washington for Len Robinson and a 1st round pick (14th overall) 1-20-77

N.B.A. High Point Game: 33 with Atlanta at New Orleans 11-26-75. 19 with Houston at Atlanta 12-27-79

Married: Wife Denolis, youngsters Tomara, 10; Da'Rell, 7

A team leader wherever he has performed, Tom Henderson has been in three of the last five World Championship series. Tom ran the attack for the Washington Bullets who won the World Title in 1978 and were runners-up in 1979 and for the Rockets who lost out to Boston for the 1981 championship. Tom has that leadership quality which in part consists of a certain mental toughness. On the court he wears a fierce scowl, which in turn makes the game seem to be a tremendous ordeal for him. "It's not fun out there, it's business. When the game's over, you can celebrate and loosen up. You've got to be on the court with the thought in mind that you are protecting what's your's," says Tom, who has been doing exactly that dating back to his days at DeWitt Clinton High in New York City. He was first team All-City while leading Clinton to a 38-4 record his final two years. Tom made first team All-Junior College All-American at San Jacinto in Pasadena, TX and then went on to become possibly the greatest player in the history of the University of Hawaii. He averaged 19.8 as a junior and 20.3 as a senior while being lauded as the finest all-around guard in the country. That praise was borne out by his selection as the 7th pick and the 1st guard taken in the 1976 college draft. Last season Tom was second on the Rockets in assists at 4.08. After starting the first 21 games of the season, he came off the bench the rest of the year until starting the final two games. In his 8-year pro career he has averaged better than five assists a game.

75. Traded by Kentucky to St. Louis for
Maurice Lucas 12-17-75. Signed with
Philadelphia for 76-77 season

N.B.A. High Point Game: 22 with Philadelphia
vs. Phoenix 1-6-79

Upon acquiring Caldwell Jones in the Moses Malone transaction, Rockets Coach Del Harris insisted that Jones inclusion be a major part of the deal. "You can't replace a Moses Malone, in particular his offensive strengths, but getting a two-time All-Defensive team player such as Caldwell means we'll pick up in areas like defensive rebounding, blocked shots, fast breaks and balanced scoring." But it should be pointed out that with Philadelphia Caldwell was asked to concentrate on the defensive part of the game and to forget about the offense. That strategy was enough to get the Sixers into the NBA finals in three of the past six seasons and to average 55 wins a year. What the Rockets and Caldwell would like to see is probably a return to offensive form that falls in-between what he did in his first three pro years and in his last six. In the A.B.A., Jones played 37 minutes a game, averaged 16 points, 13 rebounds and 3.4 blocks. With the Sixers he averaged 28 minutes, 9.2 points, 7.2 rebounds and 1.9 blocks. Last season Cladwell ranked 9th in the NBA in blocks at 1.8. In 80-81 he was 9th in rebounding at 10.0. He was 4th in league rebounding at 11.9 in 79-80 and ranked among the top ten in blocks in three other N.B.A. seasons. "I'm not trying to make anybody forget Moses," says Jones. "I've been successful in this league by playing within a team concept and that will continue to be my goal in Houston." Jones began last season as the Sixers 6th man but became the starting center when Darryl Dawkins was injured in January. With Jones in the middle, the Sixers landed in the championship series after eliminating Atlanta, Milwaukee and Boston.

Calif. Western League

N.B.A. High Point Game: 18 vs. Portland,
1-10-81

Major Jones proved to be a valuable "free agent" find for the Rockets three seasons ago. After paying his dues in the Western and Continental leagues for three years, he has had a productive three campaigns in a Houston uniform. Last season Major actually had the highest field goal mark, .531, on the club but did not qualify for that team title due to lack of attempts. The 20th pick in the 1976 draft, Major led NCAA Division II rebounding at 22.5 in 74-75 and at 19.8 in 75-76 and his 2,052 career boards at Albany State (Ga.) is a figure surpassed in NCAA annals only by Marvin Webster of Morgan State. Major is a diligent defensive player and some of the best Rockets defensive in the past couple of seasons occurred mid-way through the 80-81 campaign. While he was a starter in 11 games, The Rockets won seven and held the opponent under 100 six times. Last season Major started only six games, but in three of those, while winning twice, the Rockets held Boston, Phoenix and Milwaukee to an average of 94.3 points. One of seven sons of Caldwell and Cecelia Jones, Major and all his brothers measure 6-8 or better. Only sister Clovis is under six feet tall. Only Clinton did not become a basketball star while four have played professionally. Oliver is the head basketball coach at Albany State, Wilbert played in the A.B.A. Youngest brother Charles was in fall camp with Philadelphia. And now for the first time, with Caldwell joining the Rockets, two Jones brothers from McGehee, Ark. are on the same pro club. Major and Caldwell are the first brother duo on the same team since Tom and Dick Van Arsdale played with Phoenix in 76-77.

ALLEN LEAVELL 6-1 170 Guard

Age: 25 Born: 5-27-57 Muncie, Ind.

High School: Central, Muncie, Ind.

College: Oklahoma City University,

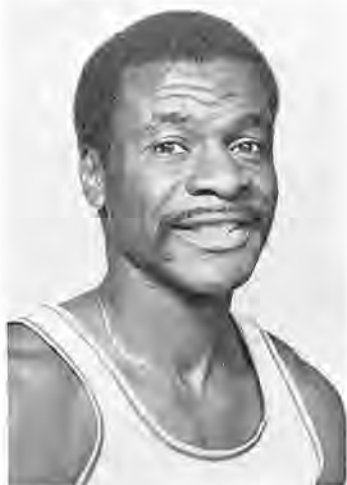

Oklahoma City, Okla., 1979

Pro and Rockets Season: 4th

How Acquired: 1979 College Draft, 5th round, 104th overall

*N.B.A. High Point Game: 32 at Denver,
2-24-82*

Allen Leavell has led the Houston Rockets in assists in each of his three pro seasons despite the fact that it wasn't until last season that he became a fixture at a starting backcourt slot. As a rookie, he started in 31 games, but played in 77, while averaging a club high 5.4 assists. In his second year he again started 31 games, played in 79 and averaged 4.9 assists. Last season he took over as a starting guard Dec. 11, started the final 61 games of the season, played in 79 and averaged 5.8 assists. Allen scored the most points of his pro career, 864, last season, while equaling his rookie point average of 10.9. He also established personal highs for minutes played, field goals made and attempted, free throw accuracy, .852, assists and steals. His achievements were not lost on Rockets Coach Del Harris: "Allen's improvement has been dramatic. He's reached a stage now where he operates at full efficiency, at near perfection, in about three games of every four. After only three seasons I'd have to put him in the top half of the point guards in the league. Beyond his talent, he's an eager learner, and he never comes back with excuses." Allen exploded for his pro career high 32 points against Denver in a late February game when he was a smoking 15 for 21 and also passed off nine assists and stole the ball six times. In his rookie season Leavell tossed in a 60-foot bomb at the halftime buzzer to lead a Rocket victory at Detroit. Last season it was probably another bomb by Leavell that may have saved a playoff berth for the Rockets. His 3-point field goal with seconds left lifted the Rockets to a 94-92 win over Golden State. The Rockets were to finish with 46 wins and the West's 6th playoff spot. The Warriors won 45 games and were out of the playoffs.

CALVIN MURPHY

5-10 165 Guard

Age: 34 Born: 5-9-48 Norwalk, Conn.

High School: Norwalk, Conn.

College: Niagara University, Niagara, N.Y., 1970

Pro and Rockets Season: 13th

How Acquired: 1970 College Draft, 2nd round,
18th overall, by San Diego

N.B.A. High Point Game: 57 vs. New Jersey
3-18-78

Married: Wife Vernetta, daughters Tiffani, 12;
Traci, 11, and son Calvin, Jr., 4

Sometime, a long time ago, someone said Calvin Murphy was too short to play N.B.A. basketball. Then someone else said that the former Norwalk High (Conn.) prep All-American shot too much. Then, after several years in a starting role, Calvin Murphy couldn't come off the bench. And, finally, Calvin Murphy is too old. To all those who said what he couldn't do, this one's for you. Calvin Murphy is now in his 13th season in the N.B.A., the 21st name on the league's all-time scoring list with 17,133 points, 4th highest among active scorers behind only giant-size Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, 7-2, Bob Lanier, 6-11, and teammate Elvin Hayes, 6-9. He ranks 2nd on the all-time free throw accuracy list, his .890 trailing only Rick Barry's .900. Calvin's .932 free throw mark in playoff competition is the highest all-time mark. This season he becomes one of only ten players and the only active player to have been with the same franchise for a dozen campaigns. And a year from now, when he begins his 14th season with the Rockets, he will join select company. The players with the most seasons with the same franchise are Dolph Schayes and John Havlicek, 16, Hal Greer 15 and Elgin Baylor and Jerry West 14. Schayes and Greer played with the Syracuse-Philadelphia franchises, Havlicek with Boston, Baylor with Minneapolis-Los Angeles and West with Los Angeles. Calvin began his N.B.A. career with the-then San Diego Rockets where he spent his rookie season after being the first pick in the second round of the 1970 draft, the 18th pick overall. As a rookie he scored 1,298 points and for 11 straight seasons he was to top 1,000 points, one of only 13 players to accomplish that feat. The string was broken last season when he tallied 655 points while playing 1,204 minutes, the fewest minutes in his career. His .909 free throw mark would have led the N.B.A. but he did not have the minimum to qualify to repeat as free throw champ. He had set a league all-time season mark of .958 in 80-81. The last few items may indicate a demise in Calvin's career. But, just remember, he was too short, shot too much, couldn't come off the bench and was too old to be here in the first place.

When the Rockets earned a playoff spot last season, it marked the 12th straight year as a pro that Billy Paultz was on a playoff club. The last three years he has been with Houston's playoff team, prior to that, four years with the San Antonio Spurs. His first five pro years were with the A.B.A. New York Nets who not only made the playoff every year but in 1974 won the A.B.A. championship. With his 1970 St. John's team playing in the N.I.T. and his 1969 college team winning an N.C.A.A. spot, it's evident that the spring of the year means income tax time, Easter and Billy Paultz in the playoffs. His 12th playoff tied him with Wes Unseld for consecutive years in the pro playoffs and Billy next season has an opportunity to join the select company of Bill Russell, Bob Cousy and Hal Greer as the only players with 13 playoffs in a row. In his three seasons as a Rocket, Billy has played a key role in the club's stretch drive. He started the final 20 games of the 79-80 season after coming over from San Antonio, then started 21 of the final 22 in 80-81 as the Rockets went 13-9 to squeeze into the playoffs which led to their appearance in the N.B.A. finals. Billy made only five starts last season, but saw a big portion of playing time coming in the final six games of the season when he scored 40 of his 212 total points. "Billy seems to be one of those guys who gets stronger as the season wears on. He has been a last quarter of the season guy. In the stretch run and in the playoffs, he does his best work," says Rockets Coach Del Harris. Billy Paultz, pro basketball's "Mr. April."

LARRY SPRIGGS

Age: 23 Born: 9-8-59 Cheverly, Md.

High School: Northwestern, N. Brentwood, Md.

Junior College: San Jacinto, Pasadena, Tx.

College: Howard University, Washington, D.C., 1981

Pro and Rockets Season: 2nd

How Acquired: Signed as free agent, 3-9-82

Prior Pro Career: 1981 College Draft, 4th round, 81st overall, by Houston. Waived 10-28-81. 81-82 Rochester, N.Y. Continental Basketball Association

N.B.A. High Point Game: 8 at Denver, 4-14-82

Larry Spriggs has been winning honors on the college and pro level the past two seasons. Now he feels it's about time that he made his presence felt in the N.B.A. As a three-year starter at Howard University in Washington, D.C., Larry three times was the MVP in the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference tournament. Drafted by the Rockets on the 4th round in 1981, he was the last player cut when the season opened. Larry joined the Rochester Zeniths of the Continental Basketball Association and became the 3rd Rocket draft pick to win Rookie of the Year honors in that league, Billy Ray Bates having won the honor in 1979 and Lee Johnson in 1981. Spriggs led the Zeniths in scoring, 24.9, and in rebounding, 12.1, placing higher than any rookie in both categories, 5th in scoring, 2nd in rebounding, on CBA leader lists. He was re-signed by the Rockets Mar. 9, 1982 and played briefly in four games during the season's final month. Larry then played for the Rockets in the Southern California Summer Pro League and gained first team All-League honors there, averaging 25.7 points, 8.6 rebounds, and 4.9 assists while hitting .604 from the field. Larry's brother, Ed, was back-up center to Patrick Ewing on Georgetown's NCAA runner-up team last season while brother Greg serves as a bodyguard for pro boxer Sugar Ray Leonard.

How Acquired: Trade from Seattle for 2nd round 1984 draft pick, 10-5-82

Prior Pro Career: 1976 College Draft, 1st round, 5th overall, by Portland. Traded for a 1st round pick 1978 (7th overall) and a 2nd round pick 1979 (40th overall) to Seattle.

N.B.A. High Point Game: 24 with Seattle at San Antonio 12-9-81

Wally Walker is coming off the best of his six pro seasons. Given an opportunity to crack Seattle's starting line-up, he responded by starting 70 games, averaging career highs of 28.1 minutes, 9.9 points, 4.4 rebounds and 3.1 assists. His assist mark was more than double that in any prior season. All those marks possibly would have been higher had it not been for a broken right index finger which sidelined him for 12 games in March and hindered his play in the last weeks of the season. He had a strong nine-series against the Rockets, leading the Sonics in field goal accuracy at .519 while playing 26.0 minutes, scoring 9.3 and averaging 6.0 rebounds. In the third and decisive game of the series, he scored 14 points, had 3 rebounds and 3 assists, a block and a steal while helping limit Robert Reid to 5 points on a 2 of 9 shooting ledger. Though he spent the majority of his career in a reserve role, Wally has been a member of some highly-successful N.B.A. teams. He has been in the playoffs five of the last six years, including three visits to the finals, as a rookie with the World Champion Portland Trail Blazers of 1977, with the runner-up Sonics in 1978 and with the Champion Seattle club of 1979. As a college senior Wally's sparkling play helped the University of Virginia to the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament championship with upsets of 20th ranked North Carolina State, 9th ranked Maryland and 4th rated North Carolina. Wally's three-game stats showed a remarkable .683 field goal percentage along with a 24.3 scoring average. Portland made Walker the 5th selection in the 1976 college draft, behind John Lucas, Scott May, Richard Washington and Leon Douglas. The following season he was traded to Seattle and became one of the most popular players in Sonics history. A native of Millersville, Pa., his brother Bob is a U.S. Congressman.
